GUIDELINES: Deadline for stories and photographs is four weeks before publication. Information submitted after the deadline will appear in a later issue, space permitting. Our Jobs editor will assign a writer for the Business Profiles. However, each client must submit a press packet to the editor for background information. If you are holding an event, please include names, address, times, admission prices and any other pertinent information for the reporter. Be sure to include a contact name and number. The Tampa Tribune's audio-visual department can take a photograph to run with the story, or the client may submit a photograph. We will accept color slides and prints, but they must be of good quality and submitted four weeks before the publication date. Any photos taken by staff photographers will remain the sole property of The Tampa Tribune.
